

Jeff Paquette, Treasurer

Jeff Paquette is a seasoned leader of philanthropic and non-profit organizations in the United States and internationally. He has served in both grassroots community-based organizations and nationally scaling enterprises, collaborating with founders/principals, boards, colleagues, and partners to translate ambitious visions into effective, high-performing enterprises. Jeff brings extensive experience working with individual donors, family and community foundations, and best-in-class social sector organizations across a range of issue areas, including education, youth development, voluntary national service, affordable housing/community development, economic mobility, health and wellness, and nonprofit capacity building. Jeff's experience has included serving in senior leadership roles at City Year (in South Africa and in the United States), Youth INC, Swanee Hunt Alternatives, The Boston Foundation, the National Center on Time & Learning, Urban Edge, and The DOME Project. Jeff currently serves as CFO/COO at The BASE, a youth-development-through-sports organization working to change the narrative for urban youth in Boston and across the United States.
